MEMORANDUM FOR:	Executive Director
VIA:	Deputy Director for Intelligence
FROM:	CIA Representative to CIPC Panel (MMP)
SUBJECT:	Status Report on MMWG Activities
REFERENCES:	a. DCI Memo to C/CIPC, 14 June 1984 b. C/CIPC Memo to Executive Director, 6 July 1984 c. MMP Status Report, 19 September 1984

- 1. This memorandum is for your information only.
- 2. As you may recall, the DCI asked the CIPC to form a working group of senior representatives from the Intelligence and Defense Communities to study the problem of detecting, locating and tracking Soviet land-based strategic offensive mobile missiles. Such a group was formed in mid-August with senior representatives from CIA, DIA, State/INR, NSA, the IC Staff, NRO and DoD (C3I). The group-called then and currently is nearing the end of its "fact-finding" phase. In and opinions from a number of collection, processing and analytic components in the IC--including several elements of the DDO, DDS&T and the DoD. An interim status report on the Panel's activities and September.
- 3. By the end of October, the MMP should be in a position to begin deliberations on how the Intelligence Community might further improve upon its currently poor capability to monitor Soviet mobile missile deployment—which is projected to proliferate substantially in size and complexity over the course of the next ten years—thereby further exacerbating our problems. It is obviously too early to predict what direction the Panel's judgments and recommendations will take. But, it is probably safe to say that it is likely to focus its attention on procedural and organizational changes, as well as on

Ambassador Anne Armstrong NOTE TO: Chairman, PFIAB Attached is the Directorate of Intelligence Research Program for 1985. It is similar in approach to the programs of the past two years, placing considerable emphasis on developments in the USSR, Communist penetration activities in the Third World, international economic issues, international narcotics, and global terrorism. While you may not have time to read this entire program, I urge you at least to leaf through it, particularly those sections on issues and problems of particular interest to you. I would value any comments you have on this program, both on specific research issues and on the overall direction of our efforts. You will note the program gives details on our planned work on the Foreign Intelligence Threat to US Interests. Some of the necessary spadework on this topic--done in the last two years--should result this year in some particularly useful papers. Robert M. Gates Deputy Director for Intelligence SECRET
